Workers to Assemble This Evening For Drive Headed Off—Facts About Organization During Past Year—How Budget Was Spent.

Workers on the teams for the Y. W. C. A. campaign will assemble at the association building this evening at 8 o'clock for their opening dinner meeting. An interesting program of songs arranged by Mrs. George F. Rice, president of the association, and Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, finance chairman, and the members of the team will receive facts and instructions as to the method of procedure. The goal set for this year is $7,000, which amount will enable the organization to continue their splendid work among the girls and young women of Kingston and vicinity.

Some facts about the Kingston Y. W. C. A. during the past year are as follows:

Bank Robber's Boast May Be Holdup Link

New York Police Seize Five Suspects in Hotel Over Week-end—Tip Came From Girl "Thrown Out" by Men.

New York, May 14 (AP)—The statement of a bank robber in the holdup of the Prudential Savings Bank in Brooklyn recently, that "This is the way we do things in the west," was investigated today as a possible link between the $23,000 robbery and six men and three women arrested yesterday.

The men, five of them from Akron, O., and one from Detroit, were arrested in a Broadway hotel room after an emergency squad of police mounted machine guns in the hotel corridor and threatened to "blast" them from their refuge unless they surrendered.

The unusual police precautions were taken when a shot was fired through the door in answer to a detective order to open the door.

First thought to be the slayers of a patrolman last month, the men will be placed before bank employees today for inspection as the robbers. The mid-western residences given by them and the casual remark of one of the bank robbers roused police suspicions.

The arrested men said they were John Holland, 27; Gus Franzsen, 30; Lester E. Morris, 28; Vernon Crouch, 32; William Smith, 24, all of Akron; and Clarence McGee, 23, of Detroit.

Their arrest followed information given detectives by a woman who had been beaten and "thrown out" by the men. One of the women arrested in the raid was charged with felonious assault, the others being booked as delinquent minors.

Benedictine Observed Hospital Day Sunday

National Hospital Day Celebrated With Appropriate Exercises—Dean Stanley, Mayor Heiselman, Dr. Thomas Crowley, the Rev. Dr. Orson Rice, and Dr. Mark O'Meara Were Speakers.

National Hospital Day was appropriately celebrated Sunday afternoon at the Benedictine Hospital by addresses, music and refreshments. In conjunction with Hospital Day there was also a joint celebration of Baby's Day and Mother's Day. All babies who had been born at the hospital within the past two years were the guests of honor. The day was an ideal one for the outdoor exercises. Chairs had been placed along the front of the hospital while the entrance porch was used as a speaker's platform from which the addresses of the afternoon were delivered. The beautiful weather brought out a large number of babies and their parents and when the exercises were opened by the Very Rev. John J. Stanley, president of the hospital, every chair was occupied while many stood at points of vantage to hear the speakers.

Dean Stanley welcomed the large gathering and said it was most gratifying to behold such a fine group of handsome Benedictine babies. He reminded them that it was a joint celebration of both Mother's Day and Baby's Day. At that time there was a happy thought that suggested the chartering of the Benedictine Hospital as Our Lady of Victory Sanitarium. It was very evident that our Lady's benign care had showered upon the institution many blessings. Dean Stanley then introduced Mayor Heiselman who spoke briefly calling attention to the splendid work that both hospitals were doing and complimented the doctors on the great amount of charitable work they have performed.

Dr. Thomas F. Crowley was the featured speaker of the day and gave a very instructive discussion of the history of hospital development. He showed that the hospital idea was really born 4,000 years before the Christian Era. At that time there was a practice of bringing the sick and ill to attend the Temples of Saturn for the relief of their sufferings by various invocations to the Pantheon Gods, Hippocrates and Aristotle were the leading lights during the period of the Greeks. Their ideas and thoughts filled the minds of the medieval men for some 2,000 years. Hospital development showed slow progress until the relationship of bacteria to disease was discovered by Pasteur, Lister and Koch. Through their attempts great strides were made to overcome the many causes of illnesses. Florence Nightingale and her followers added great advancements in that they advocated proper nursing care for the sick and the growth of the hospital continued until today we have our modern hospital with its latest scientific equipment designed to give the maximum amount of comfort and care to patients, he explained.

The Rev. Orson Rice, pastor of the M. E. Church of Woodstock, spoke on the relation of mother and babe and remarked that a grand opportunity the mothers of America had in laying its foundation for the future.

Dr. Mark O'Meara, chief of the staff of the hospital, spoke of the work of the hospital and complimented the mothers and babies and declared that in the building and maintaining of the home the wife and mother is really the "Key Stone of the Arch."

During the exercise beautiful solos were rendered by Frank X. Fitzgerald, accompanied by Theodore Riccobono.

Refreshments were served by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary assisted by several members of the Junior Auxiliary. Every baby present who was born at the hospital received a useful souvenir.

Pond, Sabelli Fly For Rome Today in Face of Fogs, Storms

Aviators Left Floyd Bennett Field Today for 40-Hour Trip—Fogs Over Atlantic—Rome, Excited, Reports Storms Over Route.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 14 (AP)—Capt. George R. Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli soared away from Floyd Bennett Field at 6:24 a. m. eastern standard time, today with the announced intention of reaching Rome without a stop. They said their large orange and maroon monoplane could make the 4,500-mile flight in about 40 hours.

Pond, a former navy flier, and Sabelli, one-time Italian war ace, had been planning the flight for months. They had hoped originally to make the attempt last fall but abandoned the idea because of unfavorable weather.

Their plane, "Leonardo Da Vinci," with 630 gallons of gasoline, carried enough fuel to last more than 40 hours.

Weather reports indicated favorable winds, but noted a low pressure area over the North Atlantic coast which the fliers said they would fly over.

They set a course over Cape Race, Nfld., and the great circle route. If the weather turns bad, they said, they may abandon the attempt to make Rome and land in France or Spain.

Today's attempt is the first transatlantic flight of the year. Only a few friends of the fliers were at the airport to see them off. The sky was overcast as the big plane soared away.

Atlantic Weather.

Harbor Grace, Nfld., May 14 (AP)—Captain George R. Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli, attempting a transatlantic flight from New York to Rome, will encounter fog and a stiff east wind off the Newfoundland coast.

They do not plan to stop at this historic point of so many successful and unsuccessful ocean flights, however, and may be able to surmount the obstacles by climbing over the low ceiling and soaring away over the great circle route.

Rome Is Excited

Rome, May 14 (AP)—The Italian Air Ministry, notified by the Washington embassy that Captain George R. Pond and Lieutenant Cesare Sabelli are flying the Atlantic from Brooklyn to Rome today placed at the disposition of the fliers two airports.

One is the civil airport, the Littorio, and the other is the Ciampino military airport, which they use will be determined by whether they arrive by day or by night. The Ciampino is better illuminated.

The fliers are expected to reach here around 3:30 a. m. Wednesday (9:30 p. m. Tuesday E.S.T.).

The weather in the Mediterranean area has been extremely uncertain recently with several violent storms. Today is cloudy with a strong south wind.

The departure of the fliers aroused great enthusiasm and the news was displayed on page one of the afternoon newspapers.

It was recalled that no non-stop flight has been made from the United States to Rome although Yancy and Williams arrived in 1923 following a stopover in Spain.

Others have tried the flight and the planes "Old Glory" and "American Nurse" went down at the attempt.

L. B. Van Wagenen Co. To Reorganize, Will Add New Departments

Following Reorganization Sale The Four Floors of The Store Will Be Filled With New and Up-To-Date Merchandise—Increase in Sales Foreseen.

The L. B. Van Wagenen Co. is preparing for very extensive changes in their store at 311 Wall street, changes which, according to Manager Thomas, will make Van Wagenen's the most complete department store in this section.

Originally a Roundout institution, where it opened for business some 45 years ago, the store was moved to uptown Kingston where they had been maintaining a branch store, and where the business has since been carried on.

The present changes are in the nature of a complete reorganization of the business of the store. The first move will be a series of sales designed to dispose of all the present stock of merchandise, with a view to replacing it with entirely new goods. The firm will take two pages of space in The Freeman this week to announce the beginning of this reorganization sale.

Mr. Thomas states that following the reorganization sale the four floors of the store will be filled with new and up-to-date merchandise. Half a dozen or more new departments will be added and the present departments will be greatly enlarged and each one made as complete as possible.

An additional pleasing feature of this indication of improving business conditions is the announcement that with the large increase in lines of merchandise to be handled will come a like increase in sales force. Mr. Thomas announces that it will probably be necessary to triple the present sales force to take care of the new departments and the additional work that will follow the enlargement of the old departments.

Drinking at Bars Legal Starting July 1

Governor Signs Bill Setting Up Permanent State Liquor Authority in Place of the Temporary Control Board.

Albany, N. Y., May 14 (AP)—The way was cleared today for New Yorkers to drink legally at liquor bars on and after July 1.

This was accomplished when Gov. Herbert H. Lehman affixed his signature to the Kleinfeld bill setting up a permanent state liquor authority in place of the temporary Alcoholic Beverage Control Board which has functioned the past year.

Legalization of liquor bars ends a controversy which began when the temporary board first drafted its rules for drinking last year. These permitted only drinking of beer at bars.

The permanent legislation removes the restriction on selling of liquor at bars so long as they are not the predominant part of an establishment.

Edward P. Mulrooney, former New York city police commissioner, will continue as head of the agency at $12,000 a year. The other four members will receive $7,500.

The board is renewing beer licenses which expired June 30, of which there are 42,000 holders. Many are expected to take out the combination liquor-wine-beer permits effective October 1.

The present liquor and wine licenses do not expire until September 30. There are 12,000 of these.

Mrs. Edna Haley charged him with disorderly conduct in calling her a name not mentioned in polite society for which he was fined $5, while her husband, George Haley, charged him with assault in the third degree for which Buckman was fined $10.

Roosevelt Proposes Government Backing For Home Construction

President Urges Action In Congress at This Session on the Two-Fold Program—Private Agencies Would Handle Modernization Program on Percentage Basis—Four Major Divisions.

Washington, May 14 (AP)—Government insurance of private financing for home construction and repair was proposed today by President Roosevelt in a message to Congress.

The President urged action at this session on the two-fold program which he said would add to employment and provide "tangible, useful wealth in a form for which there is great social and economic need."

Loans for modernization would be made by private agencies which would be insured by governmental agencies against loss up to a certain percentage of their advances.

Mutual mortgage insurance under governmental direction to enable private agencies to make first mortgage loans on newly constructed houses up to 5 per cent of the appraised value of the property would be provided. New mortgages would be allowed on existing homes up to 60 per cent of the appraised value of the property. The loans would usually carry not more than five per cent interest.

The President proposed further federal insurance for share and certificate holders in building and loan associations, similar to the insurance provided for bank depositors.

Also Mr. Roosevelt would provide incorporation of mortgage associations under strict federal supervision to increase the amount of mortgage funds available in regions where interest rates are unduly high.

Modernization of commercial and industrial structures, said the President, "is envisioned, as well as residential, but the new features providing governmental assistance are confined largely to home improvements."

"The purpose of the program is two-fold: First, to return many of the unemployed to useful and gainful occupation; second, to produce tangible, useful wealth in a form for which there is great social and economic need."

"The program consists of four major, inter-related divisions: 1. Modernization, repair and new construction; 2. Mortgage insurance; 3. Mortgage associations; and 4. Building and loan insurance."

The modernization phase of the program will furnish national guidance and support for locally-managed renovating campaigns throughout the country and protection for home owners against unwarranted cost advances. For these purposes and to assure adequate financing at low cost and on moderate terms of repayment, a new governmental agency is required.

Modernization of commercial and industrial structures is envisioned, as well as residential, but the new features providing governmental assistance are confined largely to home improvements.

Loans to individuals will be made by private agencies which will be insured by a governmental agency against loss up to a certain percentage of their advances. This insurance against loss on the rehabilitation loans will be met by the government and will be confined to advances of credit that meet standards and conditions designed to protect both the home owners and the cooperating agencies.

"To make funds available for new home construction and to improve the mortgage market, the second phase of the program is long-term mortgage financing. It provides mutual mortgage insurance under governmental direction to enable private agencies to make first-mortgage loans on newly constructed houses up to 50 percent of the appraised value of the property, and to make new mortgages on existing homes up to 60 percent of the appraised value of the property. The loans will usually carry not more than five per cent interest and will be amortized by periodic payments over 20 years. Similar insurance arrangements are provided to help finance low-cost residential projects of the slum-replacement type."

State Commander To Pay Official Visit

Gloversville, N. Y., May 14 (AP)—Fulton county's glove factories, where more than 90 per cent of the nation's gloves are made, were again running on a normal basis today as 3,000 striking glove workers returned to their jobs after being idle more than a month. They came back with a 10 per cent increase in wages under terms of the temporary peace accepted Saturday by a vote of 944 to 510. The question was submitted to the workers at the request of a citizens' committee, seeking to start the factories running and end the business stagnation which accompanied the strike.

Need For Platform Is Found at TB Hospital

Hospital Day Celebrated at Ulster County TB Hospital Saturday—Survey Shows Much Is Being Accomplished.

Saturday was "Hospital Day" at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and it was an ideal day for visiting "The Kijikuit," the eminence upon which the hospital is built.

The guests found this hospital in its usually epic and span condition. The only difference from a visit on any other day, was to be found in that the patients had the happy light of "company coming" in their eyes.

During the visit to the X-ray room, in conversation with the guide, the Freeman Reporter learned of the wonderful work that the Tuberculosis Hospital is doing in continuing the school work of inspection and tuberculin testing of school children as probably the most effective preventive measure known for the eradication of the white plague.

Where only a few years ago the county spent thousands of dollars yearly in the care of tuberculosis patients, with a very infrequent recovery to its credit, today it spends some hundreds of dollars for the tuberculin testing of school children to prevent the spread of the disease.

Undoubtedly the cheerful aspect of the most of the patients is due to their being able to buy for a part of the time at least with the occupational therapy work which is being carried on at the hospital. The visit to the "Therapy" room proved to be most interesting and informing.

The question as to the safety of the purchaser in buying articles made by the tuberculosis patients came up and the reporter was shown the disinfecting plant. It is a huge chest, lined and inter-lined with skeleton racks or shelves to hold all sorts of articles which cannot be disinfected by washing in soap and water and drying in the sunshine. There is an apparatus in which is placed the disinfecting chemical and then the heavy lid is closed down. From the outside, by means of electrical contact this fluid is sent to the boiling point which completely disseminates a vapor throughout every tiniest space within the chest. The articles are kept in this steam bath for 48 hours, when they are considered scientifically entirely free from any and all germs.

While there is an assembly room on the first floor of the hospital, easy of access by the elevator, there are, for the most part, so many bed-patients at the hospital that they are unable to enjoy the usual entertainment of whatever sort held down there.

But there is a large, open space of ground outside the rear of the hospital which is entirely visible from both porches on both floors of the hospital, when the beds are run onto the porches. The space would just about accommodate the platform now loaned once in a while by the board of public works, at considerable bother and red-tape-cutting for both the board and hospital. If the hospital could be put into possession of sufficient lumber of the right sort, there is labor available at the hospital at various times to build a large acedion-platform to fill this space and which could, at the only of the out-door season, be taken down and stored in the building, and from early spring to late fall there would be a place where any sort of entertainment could be given and all of the patients could enjoy it. Patients at the hospital wonder who will donate all or a part of the lumber necessary to build such a platform at the Tuberculosis Hospital? The answer may be "phoned in" to the hospital office—1634.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press

Bello Horizonte, Brazil—Hunting wild pigs may be sport, but residents of Santa Cruz, Minas Geraes, found it no fun when the pigs turned the tables on them.

Several thousand savage porkers stampeded through the town from the nearby forest, driving the people from the streets and taking temporary possession of the place.

Townpeople failed scores of the pigs with firearms, bricks and anything else that came to hand.

Unhappy Landings

Pittsburgh—As if it weren't misfortune enough to crash his plane twice within an hour, Steve Petrovich, 33, has been sent to jail for 30 days.

He pleaded guilty to flying without a license. Given his share of the jail term of a $100 fine, Petrovich said dolefully:

"I don't believe I have a friend in the world who could lay out $100 for me."

Saved

St. Paul, Minn.—Although nearly all the belongings of her family were destroyed in a fire which wrecked their home, Ruth Woeckenberg, nine years old, is happy.

She remembered a new dress, purchased for her first communion, and left beside her bed. Dashing back into the house, she brought out the dress triumphantly.

Persistence

New York—Mrs. Helen Melner's long vigil is ended.

For a year and a half she has scrutinized the features of every man she has met, seeking the man for whom she cashed two forged money orders for a total of $37.50 in her restaurant during the 1932 Christmas season.

At last she saw the man she was looking for in a street, and pushing him against a building, she held him until police arrived.

The man, who said he was Philip Goldstein, 32, was locked up on a charge of forgery.

All in Vain

Monticello, Wis.—Despite a public appeal to her daughter, Mrs. John Pollock received no Mother's Day greeting.

The daughter, Eunice, 20, has been missing from the University of Wisconsin since March 17, when she disappeared after being suspended by the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

The sorority has exonerated the girl and her mother is seriously ill, but no word has come from her.

Reward

Kansas City, Kan.—Police Captain Stanley Beatty brought several families of Indians to court—and thereby became "Wa-Tau-Su," or Big Brave.

The Indians, taking part in a festival, found their tepees too cold and wet and asked to sleep in the city jail. Captain Beatty led them instead to the courtroom where they spent the night on benches.

And for his hospitality, the Redskins made Beatty a chief.

Johns His Company

Little Rock, Ark.—Samuel E. Henderson, Arkansas commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, prepared a statement to be made public on his 90th birthday within a few days.

"I am the only surviving member of the 100 in my company," he wrote. Sixty of them returned home and of that number I am the only one who has not answered the last roll call."

He was stricken suddenly yesterday and died.

Barbarian Property Ownership

So unusual is the conception of property ownership among the Barbians that the wealthiest members of society frequently have title to the trunk of a fig tree, while another owns its fruit-bearing branches.

Dr. A. S. Keele Died Suddenly Saturday

Engineer Held in West For Slaying of Girl

Was Well Known in Medical, Fraternal and Military Circles—Funeral Services Tuesday Afternoon

Dr. Augustus Schoonmaker Keele, 57, died suddenly Saturday evening after a short illness. Dr. Keele was well known in medical, fraternal and military circles of the city. Saturday evening he was taken suddenly ill and was removed to the Kingston Hospital where his death occurred about an hour. A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

Born in Kingston December 8, 1876, he attended the public schools of the city and was graduated from old Kingston Academy and then attended Valparaiso University at Valparaiso, Indiana. After graduating from that institution he attended the Medical School of the University of Louisville, Kentucky, from which university he was graduated. Also he was a Fellow of the American College of Physio-Therapists. While a student at Kingston Academy he was in the Spanish-American war, and during the Spanish-American war he was in the Spanish-American war. On his return from service he resumed his studies at the Academy. After graduation from medical school Dr. Keele held the position of Medical Superintendent of the State Hospital at Hopkinton and later at Lakeland, Kentucky. In January, 1929, he came to Kingston and opened offices at 255 Wall street where he specialized in the treatment of mental and nervous diseases. Dr. Keele was a member of the Ulster County Medical Association and was a member of the staffs of the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals.

Extra Corps Found as Hearse Crashes

San Francisco.—A crash between a hearse and a doctor's car led to the startling discovery by the physician that the hearse contained two dead men instead of the one with which it had left the funeral parlor. After the hearse had crashed head on into his machine, Dr. M. K. Gordon started to grab the driver, William "Bum" Baum, of Oakland, but found he had died at the wheel from a heart attack.

WOMAN'S MIXED DIET WAS ALL HARDWARE

Pins, Tacks and Screws Included in Her Menu.

New York.—The astonishing results of an operation performed on a woman patient at the Kings county hospital were made public. Physicians reported that 1,200 separate items of hardware were removed from the stomach of Miss Mabel Wolf of Brooklyn. She is recovering from the operation and, with prolonged rest and a more orthodox diet, is expected before long to be well.

The items removed included tacks, nails, screws, pins, beads, wire, glass, and bolts. They were swallowed, according to her story, in a single week five years ago. She then was employed in the hardware department of a Manhattan department store.

"I guess I did it to be funny," she explained.

The doctors' inventory reads: 584 fine upholstery tacks, 144 carpet tacks, 2 chair tacks, 1 round-headed thumbtack, 3 thumbtacks (ordinary), 46 small screws, 6 medium screws, 80 large screws, 1 hook-shaped screw (coat hanger), 30 small bolts, 47 larger bolts, 3 picture hooks, 3 nuts, 2 large bent safety pins, 1 small safety pin, 2 stray pins without heads, 1 matted mass of hair containing screws and pins, 50 assorted beads, 4 pieces of wire, 80 pieces of glass (all sizes), 1 piece of tescup handle.

Miss Wolf, a thin, dark haired woman, forty years old, said after eating those things she has had recurrent pains but always successfully treated them with patent medicine until a week ago when the pain became so acute that she called a doctor. He ordered her immediately to the hospital where several examinations were made.

An X-ray was taken and the plates revealed the internal hardware shop. Miss Wolf was interviewed later, the questions and answers being: "When did you eat the hardware?" "Five years ago." "For how long?" "All in one week." "Why did you?" "I don't know, unless it was to be funny. Don't question me any more. I want to forget it." She turned to a doctor—"Please give me one good meal." "We will see that you get good meals, Miss Wolf, but remember—no more nails."

Tear Gas Bomb Proves to Be No World War "Dud"

Cincinnati.—A tear gas bomb a University of Cincinnati student received as a souvenir several years ago from a girl acquaintance with the understanding that it was a "dud" from the World War, proved to be "the real thing" here.

Joseph Kalavoda, owner of the bomb, was cleaning his trunk where the "dud" was stored. Robert Hawley, a fraternity brother, asked permission to examine it. He pulled out the fuse. The "dud" exploded. Neither student was injured, but both staggered to windows, their eyes filled with tear gas. The landlady turned in a fire alarm when she saw the smoke.

Maid Is Mistaken for Burglar, Demands $5,000

Cleveland, Ohio.—It's worth $5,000 to be grazed by a bullet when mistaken for a burglar by your employer, Miss Teresa Dunn believes. She filed suit in Common Pleas court for that amount against Garrett H. Van Gastel in whose home she was employed as a maid.

The shooting occurred at 3 a. m. when Miss Dunn was returning to the Van Gastel home after an "evening off," according to her petition. The petition stated she was struck by one of four bullets fired and suffered a hip wound. Van Gastel said the girl was mistaken for a burglar.

Judge Is Drawn for Jury

Cleveland.—Common Pleas Judge Samuel H. Silbert had a chance to step down from the bench and become a juror here. The jurist's name was included when the jury commission picked 6,000 potential jurors to serve for ten-day periods next year.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

THE SQUEAKY VOICE

"WHO'S that?" Peter Rabbit pricked up his ears and stared up at the tops of the trees in the Old Orchard.

Instantly Jenny Wren popped her head out of her doorway. She cocked her head one side to listen, then looked down at Peter. "I don't hear any strange voice," she snapped. "The way you are staring, Peter Rabbit, one would think you were hearing something new and worth while."

"Oh!" cried Peter. "Isn't He Lovely?"

Just then there were two or three sharp, squeaky notes from the top of one of the trees. "There!" cried Peter. "There! Didn't you hear that, Jenny Wren?"

"For goodness sake, Peter Rabbit, you don't mean to say that you don't know whose voice that is?" cried Jenny. "That's Rosebreast. I didn't suppose there was anyone who didn't know that sharp, squeaky voice. It rather gets on my nerves. What anybody wants to squeak like that for when he can sing as Rosebreast can, is more than I can understand."

At that very instant Mr. Wren began to scold as only he and Jenny can. Peter looked up at Jenny and winked slyly. "And what anyone wants to scold like that for when he can sing as Mr. Wren can is too much for me," retorted Peter. "But you haven't told me who Rosebreast is."

"The Grosbeak of course, stupid!" spluttered Jenny. "If you don't know Rosebreast the Grosbeak, Peter Rabbit, you certainly must have been blind and deaf ever since you were born. Listen to that! Just listen to that note!"

Peter listened. That song was coming from the very tree from which had come those squeaky notes a few minutes before. Peter looked puzzled. "Do you mean Welcome Robin's song?" he asked sheepishly.

"No, I don't mean Welcome Robin's song," snapped Jenny. "What good are a pair of long ears if they can't tell one song from another? That song may sound something like Welcome Robin's, but it's different, and it's better. That is Rosebreast singing, and there he is right in the top of that tree. Isn't he handsome?"

Peter looked up to see a bird nearly the size of Welcome Robin. His head, throat, and back were black. His wings had patches of white on them. But his breast made Peter catch his breath with a little gasp of admiration. It was a beautiful rose red. The rest of him underneath was white. It was Rosebreast the Grosbeak.

"Oh!" cried Peter. "Isn't he lovely?"

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

You'll Need Blouses Like These

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

The next one, at right, is in pastel linen and has a popular Byron collar.

Below, multicolor dots are embroidered on white organdie and the buttons are vari-colored tidily-winks.

Mighty Lak a Rose

New York—A pink party dress as light as tickledown and transparent to boot, could anything be more alluring? It's the sort of thing that many girls have always wanted but were born too late to wear. Such fashions have been re-born. What the effect of the "simple" muslin gowns of song and story is going to be on the present generation is going to be worth knowing.

If you don't like pink for anything excepting undies, you may have the distinction of being among the first to go into yellow for evening. Of late years, yellow has been a favorite beach and country color but it has not had much of a fling at night life. But yellow, like pink has been reborn and is among the best sellers again. Both these shades and other pastels are much used in tweeds too, especially for the separate skirt with which one is expected to ring in changes of color schemes twins and the new and quite disarming lingerie blouses which are all of a flutter with bows, jabots, ruffles and what not.

Everybody knows the important place organdie has made for itself, but perhaps many still do not realize that organdie is being used for summer jacks. Not that they offer much by way of warmth, still they are quite charming as an outer layer over the evening gown no matter what its nature.

Is it any more surprising that organdie should be used for jackets or capes than that net should be used for suits? And there are net suits aplenty, the smartest in brown, navy or bright blue and black. They are already daubed the commutator's delight and an answer to prayer for the girl who is office bound all summer.

Pink, Mauve and Brown, Says Schiaparelli

Paris—Besides quantities of black, usually with white touches, Schiaparelli launches a soft flower pink called Grofée, a pale grayish mauve called Jasmin de Nuit, and a dark grayish brown called Black Iris.

PINK FOR PARTIES

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

A youthful pink net frock has groups of self pleated ruffles at the knees above the skirt flare and borders the capelet with similar ruffling. A sash of matching taffeta is tied in a large bow.

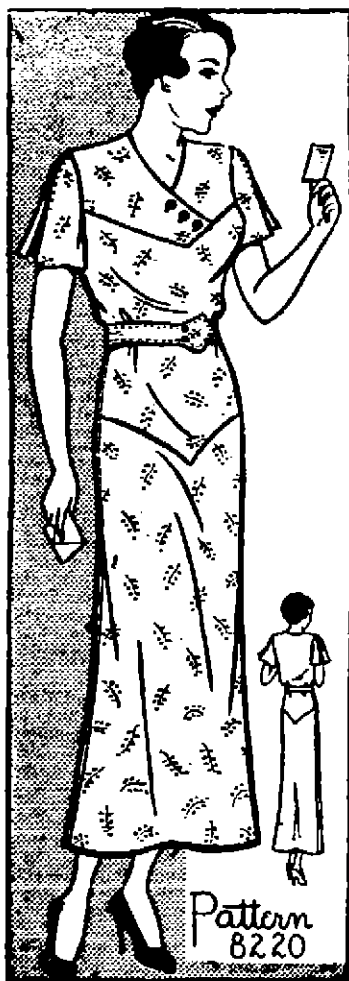

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Prominent among skirts for summer sports is the front-buttoning type. It is one of the leaders in pastel tweeds and flannels and is shown in a number of cotton and linen three-piece schemes.

Big patch pockets and matching or darker toned buttons are new details on this old favorite.

ITCHING IRRITATION

Even in persistent cases where pain is severe and tender—constant follows the soothing touch of

Resinol

UPSET STOMACH,

Mr. Peter Fisher?

Dr. K.—a well known New York physician, whose signed statement is on record in New York, we omit his name out of courtesy to the medical profession.

"Here's how to FIX THAT!"

DR. K.—* TELLS NEW YORK PHOTOGRAPHER

If you are bothered by periodic upset stomach or indigestion ... remove the real cause and get positive relief quickly! That is the advice of Dr. K.—!

For quick, positive relief you must rid the system of these clogging wastes. And for nearly forty years doctors have prescribed Sal Hepatica as the safe, sure, faster way to do this. For Sal Hepatica is utterly different from other types of laxatives in these four vital respects:

Why Sal Hepatica is Different—More Efficient

1. It is a Mineral Salt Laxative that not only flushes the system clear of poisonous wastes, but tends to aid Nature in restoring the natural balance of body fluids.
2. Its action results from osmosis (a gentle, thorough flushing) and not from irritation.
3. It acts promptly. No hours of waiting.
4. No "dragged-out" feeling afterwards—because Sal Hepatica does not deplete the body tissues of fluid.

So take Sal Hepatica at the first sign of clogged intestines. And thus aid Nature to keep you free from colds, grippe, rheumatic pains, upset stomach, headaches and other common troubles.

SAL HEPATICA
The Mineral Salt Laxative

"O, thou merry month complete;
MAY . . .
thy very name is sweet!"

THIS being May, we'd like to drop back through history a few hundred years and see the May-pole which James II (then the Prince of Wales) caused to be erected in The Strand, London.

The king wanted a kingly May-pole . . . a big one! So the topmost tuft of flowers and ribbons waved from a shaft ten stories high!

But the part we like best about old May Day customs was bringing in the hawthorn blossoms. The young folks did this; starting off "a-Maying" early in the morning through every country lane, they brought back enough branches to deck every house in the village.

There's something about this Maytime that makes us long to bring the Spring indoors. Have you thought yet about crisp ruffled curtains and cool, flower-shaded slip-covers and thin summer rugs, for your own rooms? A cotton bed-spread is new pleasure, and just slipping your pillows into print and gingham covers cheers up the indoor atmosphere. Saves fine fabrics from dust and fading too.

So it's pleasant to change dress indoors for Summer and thrifty to take advantage of the many special offerings in the advertisements. The stores have many fresh, novel new things for Spring and prices are surprisingly low.

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Time Is Known By Light

New York, May 14.—They finally got an announcer for that bee broadcast scheduled for WABC-CBS Wednesday afternoon.

The program, to come from Washington, will be a discussion by J. I. Hamilton of the Bureau of Entomology on "Bee Behavior," with a live of bees as a buzzing illustration.

That was all right, but no announcer wanted this particular program. None was afraid of bees, just somewhat skeptical. Finally a straw-drawing contest was staged to pick the announcer.

Six foot Harold Gray lost.

Kay Bros. Circus Is In Kingston Today

Motored Circus, the First This Year, Will Present Two Shows Today at Fair Grounds off North Front Street.

Kingston will be visited by its first circus of the season today with the arrival of Kay Bros. motored organization, which will give two shows, each at the Fair Grounds off North Front street, the first at 2:30 this afternoon arranged especially for school children and the second performance at 8 o'clock this evening.

While this aggregation is not one of the largest in the country, it boasts of many varied and thrilling performers. Among the feature attractions is the Four Millers troupe, spectacular aerialists, who perform many daring feats high up in the dome of the canvas tent. Another outstanding headliner is Miss Mary Ellen, petite and charming star, who was recently featured with the Witch Circus in Australia. A third important act is the Foster Trio.

One of the mainstays of all circuses are the animals, and Capt. Walker has trained a large troupe of ponies, monkeys, dogs, and other animals which will perform in the sawdust ring. Other animals include the ever present elephants and camels.

Kay Bros. have promised to have all the atmosphere and attachments of any good circus and are anticipating a large turnout for the first event of its kind this year.

A cordial invitation is extended to every member of the Federation to be present at this meeting.

FEDERATION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

The executive committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its last meeting before the summer vacation on Thursday afternoon at the City Library at 2:30 o'clock. It will be an important meeting.

CROSSING the ANDES

Laying the Trans-Andean Cable.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.
THE Andes, rooftops of the Western Hemisphere, have frequently stirred the imaginations of engineers. The building of early Spanish trails across these mountains was among the feats of colonial days; the Trans-Andean railroad was one of the outstanding engineering achievements of its time; and more recently the laying of the cable that links Argentina and Chile by voice added another chapter to engineering progress in South America.

Braving ice, accident and avalanches, North American and Chilean engineers, by sheer strength and persistence, dragged the heavy cable up and over the freezing, wind-swept mountain passes, blocked with drifts for months each year. Deep snow here causes frequent slides, or avalanches, before which even the stoutest poles are as wheat straw in a Kansas cyclone. So, to keep the cable from being swept away, workmen dug a ditch many miles long, over the higher Andean wastes, and buried the cable in it.

Near the tiny hamlet of Las Cuevas, on the Argentine side of the Andes, the line reaches a point 12,300 feet above sea level. By contrast, the submarine telegraph cable off the coast of Chile rests on sea bottom in 21,000 feet of water, showing the amazing physical geography in this part of the world.

Dangerous and difficult though these lonely Andean passes are, stubborn man has long used them in his restless transit across South America. Telling on foot or shouting and stoning their lazy llama pack trains, native races of long ago traveled the worn trails that paralleled the winding Aconcagua river, up ever-narrowing canyons, under cliffs, and along the edges of dizzy precipices.

In the glittering days of Spanish viceroys, when the king of Spain ruled such of South America through his agents at Santiago de Chile, pack trains and soldiers used these same Andean trails to reach Tucuman, Cordoba, and ancient Cuyo country. Broke Off From Spain.

In these same bleak passes where the big cable now carries spoken words, once echoed the shouts of San Martin's famous "Army of the Andes," when Chile and the Argentine, more than a century ago, wrested independence from Spain.

For much of its length cable parallels the well-known "rack" railroad crossing the Andes. It took years to build this difficult railway, whose maximum grade is 8 per cent. At Mendoza, on the Argentine side of the Andes, you leave the standard track and transfer to narrow-gauge coaches. For several hours a locomotive of the "adhesion" type draws the train. Finally when grades grow steeper, your engine crawls on the toothed rails of the "rack" system. As you climb slowly higher and higher, tunnels and snowbeds increase in number and length. Vegetation disappears.

To make this trip in June or July, which is midwinter there, is to see the Alps of South America in all their glistening glory. Sometimes snowplows precede your train. In July, 1830, scores of passengers were delayed many days at each end of the Trans-Andean line, waiting for 23-foot drifts to be cleared. Up in these passes resort hotels have risen, and holiday seekers come from Valparaiso, Santiago, Buenos Aires, and Montevideo for winter sports. One even sees soldiers training on skis.

Winding ever upward, the road runs in the shadow of Mount Tupungato, 21,980 feet high, and past an odd rock formation known as "The Penitent," from its resemblance to a procession of cowed monks. Then you stop at Puesto del Inca, a strangely formed natural bridge which gives the district its name. Just beyond this bridge, if the day is clear, you can glimpse great Aconcagua, highest mountain in the Americas, whose snow-capped peak rises the sky 23,000 feet above the sea.

Christ of the Andes.
At Las Cuevas the westbound train crawls into the mountain side from Argentina to emerge on Chilean soil. Over the hill through which this two-mile tunnel runs is laid the telephone cable; and, if the day be clear, just as your train emerges in Chilean sunshine you can look up at the hilltop and behold that famous peace monument, the Christ of the Andes, which stands more than 12,000 feet above sea level, on the Chile-Argentine frontier. Far below, though still at 9,000 feet elevation, Inca Lake is set among the peaks. Still descending, your train creaks, squeals, and winds in and out among mountains of infinite majesty, dignity and distance, rattles over bridges that span roaring cascades, to emerge at last into fertile, green valleys of Chile.

In clean, safe, steam-heated trains, this is a fascinating trip. You may sit comfortably at lunch and look out through plate-glass windows at one of the world's most astounding panoramas. But you merely see it. The workers out there along the track, in skating caps, ear muffs and mittens—the engineers on snowshoes and the crew driving the rotary plow against the drifts—they not only see but they feel and smell the Andes.

And they hear the voices of the high passes, the hiss of the snow and shriek of winds around the crags, the roar of avalanches.

Down the smooth, steep, snow-covered slope of one mountain, plainly visible from the train, an avalanche slides. Countless tons of rock, dirt and snow, coasting straight down from the very clouds leaves a long, perpendicular scar. "What is that funny trail down the mountain side?" asks a solitary player, looking up from his cards. No one answers.

To save their cable from these slides, the telephone engineers buried it in the rocks all the way from Las Cuevas, on the Argentine side, over to Juncal, in Chile.

Safety Comes First.
"When we picked out the route for laying our cable over the Andes, it was not with the view of keeping close to roads and trails," said an official of the American-owned telephone and telegraph company. "What we sought was a path that would give the cable the most shelter and minimize the danger of breaks from avalanches, landslides or earthquakes."

"But always we had to carry the heavy cable on the last lap of its hard journey up steep mountains and over cliffs, to where we had blasted a sunken way for it. Only picked men could stand this tremendous physical ordeal. We chose only those who had worked for years in high altitudes. Even the blasting and digging of our cable's underground path over this roof of the world, a ditch many miles long, was a back-breaking task."

Once the Andes separated Chile and the Argentine not only physically and in a commercial way, but also formed a barrier against intellectual, social and artistic relations. Now, by this cable, friendly intercourse is easy; and not only can Santiago talk over the Andes and across the far pampas to busy Buenos Aires, but by a 66-mile cable under the great River Platte she can talk to Montevideo, in Uruguay, and from there on by radio telephone to Europe, the British Isles, and the United States.

When the Airplane Survey party, which was sent to South America in 1930 by the National Geographic society, reached Santiago de Chile, one of its members called the society's headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Over thousands of miles of sea, jungle, plains and Andean snows this long-distance dialogue was held as easily as if the speakers had been face to face.

What a contrast since doughty old Tupac Tupanqui, the Inca warrior, braved these Andean passes! Probably it often took him weeks to get his runners through. Now, when the passes are free of dangerous storm clouds and fogs, planes fly every week between Santiago and Mendoza.

The Andes are as high, cold and vast as ever. Only they seem less so now because trains and planes are faster than wiles and horses, and because our voices on the new telephone cable carry farther than the voices of General San Martin and old Chief Tupac Tupanqui shouting across the canyon.

WILL TEST DEVICE TO DETECT QUAKES

California Scientists to Try Jap Invention.

Berkeley, Calif.—Earthquake predicting device, which it is hoped, may enable scientists to forecast earth movements hours before they occur, are being tested at the University of California.

Invented after a Japanese invention, the instruments are designed to measure infinitesimal tilting of the earth's surface, which Japanese seismologists claim they have noted before earthquakes.

The devices have been installed near the Hayward fault line along the lower slope of the Berkeley hills.

Since the instruments were installed there have been no movements of any magnitude along the fault, Prof. Byerly, United States seismologist, said, and even if it should be proved that tilting is a precursor of earthquakes, years might be required to work out a technique of forecasting, he believes.

Some tilting has been observed on the instruments, but it has been attributed to rains and consequent swelling and movement of the surface.

The instruments were designed by George E. Merritt, formerly of the United States bureau of standards, and were installed by the United States geodetic survey. Tilting is detected by observing the movement of oil held in a bowl over which a plate of glass is suspended parallel to the oil's surface.

If tilting occurs the surface of the oil is no longer parallel to the plate of glass. Even though this change may be too slight to be observed by the naked eye, it can be determined by reflecting a beam of light simultaneously from the lower surface of the glass and the top surface of the oil.

When the two surfaces are exactly parallel the light is reflected without interference, but if the oil has moved in relation to the glass some of the light waves interfere with each other and a pattern is formed.

Influx of Twins Stir Up Indian Medicine Men

Gallup, N. M.—Two pairs of Navajo twins in as many days on the Navajo reservation has set medicine men chanting and shaking rattles as they foresee an early end of the world.

Ancient Naski Nayah, survivor of the Mexican captivity and venerable medicine man of the tribe, explained that "all babies must be born before the end of the world. Now the births are coming in pairs and the end is near."

Until recently, Navajo twins have been exceedingly rare. Twin boys are held sacred and girls born in pairs are distinguished. Four sets of Navajo twins have been born at the Rehoboth Mission hospital east of here within the last year. Ten sets of twins have arrived at the mission within the last six and one-half years.

The belief of Naski Nayah that the world is facing an early end is shared by other medicine men of the tribe. Old men of the tribe all ready set to muttering prayers at the arrival of twin boys to the Charles Mannings were thrown into confusion and fear when the squaw of Simon Demons gave birth to a pair of daughters 48 hours later.

Giant Thermometer Now Adorns the Eiffel Tower

Paris.—With the installation of a mammoth thermometer on the Eiffel tower, Parisians and other Paris dwellers can tell exactly when to shiver and sink deeper into their mufflers and when to emerge and breathe a few breaths of fresh air. Shortly before his death, the Italian, Jacopozzi, expert electrician and father of electrical displays on store fronts during the Christmas holidays, submitted the design for the huge thermometer. It was approved as a permanent fixture to the Citroen display and has been erected.

Old Gallows Condemned
Boise, Idaho.—Idaho's gallows at Nampa, used to hang the state's murderers for the last quarter century, has been condemned by Warden Ira Taylor as a "bad influence" on younger prisoners. The last time it was used was in 1926 when John Jurko of Twin Falls was hanged. A new one will be constructed when the need arises, the warden said.

Farmer Sleepwalks and Does Milking

Three Forks, Mont.—A farmer, whose name the sheriff obligingly is keeping secret, registered a complaint that his dairy herd was being milked by marauders nearly every night.

Deputation kept watch for several nights before they saw the farmer himself, in nightgown and carpet slippers, walk in his sleep to the barn, milk the cows, pour the milk into his pigsty, and communicate back to bed.

Vetoes Three Bills To Exempt Judges

Albany, N. Y., May 14 (AP).—Ruling that state judges have no reason to be exempt from state income taxes, Governor Lehman today vetoed three bills to provide such exemption.

"I agree with the tax commission that there can be no sound reason why judges, justices and official referees, other than those whose salaries are protected by the constitution, should be accorded any different treatment with respect to their incomes than is accorded to other officers and employees of the state," the governor declared.

The bills were introduced by Senators John L. Buckley, and Henry L. O'Brien, New York Democrats.

Mr. Lehman also vetoed a bill intended to tax trucks doing business in New York from states which tax New York trucks. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Hergeri A. Rapp, Republican, of Darien Center. Its provisions are so uncertain and complicated that the law would be impossible of administration and enforcement, the governor said.

He signed two bills providing that "hereafter a person, though he has committed a traffic infraction, need not state that he has been convicted of a crime."

The same consideration is given a witness in court.

The bills were introduced by Assemblyman James R. Robinson, Ithaca Republican.

Horse and Wagon
The horse pushes against the harness, the word "push" being defined as "to press against with force in order to drive or impel." It also pulls the wagon, the word "pull" being defined as "to exert force upon so as to cause, or tend to cause, motion toward the force." Probably both actions are necessarily involved, though the horse does not push the wagon, but rather the collar or breast strap of the harness. Some authorities prefer the word "draw," defined as "to cause to move continuously by force applied in advance of the thing moved."

Mistress—Mabel, you will have to stop entertaining your gentleman friends in the kitchen.
Mabel—I tried to get him to come into the parlor, but he's too bashful.

The honeymoon is over when the bride begins to wonder how she can make ends meet, and the groom starts wondering how he can keep body and soul together on her rooking.

Nearness to God.
Repentance of sins.
Activity for the right.

Second Ditto—Who's the exception to the rule that we all must die?

First Gent—Why, that's the exception to the rule that all rules have their exceptions.

It all depends on the size of his wife whether it's the little or large things that count in a man's life.

Youth—But I asked you, darling, to keep our engagement a secret.
His Sweetie—I couldn't help it. That hateful Ethel said the reason I wasn't married was that no man had even been fool enough to propose to me. So I told her you had.

Perhaps one cause of the depression is that in the old days mother made undies for herself and the girls from flour sacks. Lately she buys silk for all of them.

Customer—I'd like to buy a music.

Store Clerk—How's this one?
Customer—Oh, that wouldn't do; it would hold the mouth too tightly shut.

Clerk—But I just sold one of this style to a woman.
Customer—Well, it might do for a woman, but I want this for a dog.

Success in marriage depends whether at the end of a couple of years we have a divorce or a baby.

We're very curious to know what goes on at the broadcasting stations that makes people laugh so hard at the comedians.

Mother—Yes, Junior.
Junior—They like to have it very quiet up there, don't they?

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON — Despite criticism of the house leadership of the present congress, the speaker's action that one of the greatest parliamentary revolutions in history has been completed under its terms.

The seventy-third congress, which began in 1913, in the sixtieth congress—when the movement to strip the speaker of his legislative powers was launched.

Congressional 'High Hat'

Time was when the speaker dominated every function of the house. Under Speaker Reed and "Uncle Joe" Cannon the post attained such pre-eminence as almost to overshadow the presidency itself.

The late Champ Clark once said that when he arrived to serve in the house he was introduced to Speaker Reed. Clark mentioned the name of his predecessor, who had served four years under Reed's speakership. Reed said he was unable to recall ever having heard of him.

This parliamentary revolution, begin in 1910, has proceeded slowly until the present congress when the transfer of the control of party business from the speaker's chamber to the floor of the house was effected completely.

And it was Rainey, the present speaker, who introduced in the democratic caucus and secured adoption of the proposal that did the job.

New Members Heard

RAINEY'S proposal was for the selection of a steering committee by the democratic caucus to which are referred questions of party policy and expediency.

Ever since the sixty-sixth congress, through the efforts of James H. Mann of Illinois, the republicans have had such a committee. They have at each succeeding congress readopted such a system because it has proved effective and satisfactory.

It was not until Rainey became speaker in the present congress, however, that the democrats instituted such a reform.

Through these steering committees, elected by party caucuses and subject to recall at will, the newest member of the house is able to express his views and register his wishes as effectively in the formulation of party programs as the oldest member or the highest ranking member of its most important committee.

CARBON MONOXIDE PRESENT IN 3 OUT OF 5 MOTOR CARS

When starting the spring and summer driving pay particular attention to the exhaust pipe on your car. Out of that pipe comes a deadly gas generated by the engine—carbon monoxide. Unless the mechanism is in perfect condition the gas may not be carried out into the open air where it dissipates, but may leak up into the car.

Quantities of carbon monoxide are present in three out of five motor vehicles now moving on highways. Through the fumes are not concentrated highly in the majority of vehicles, they are sufficiently strong in 7 per cent, to cause collapse and greatly to increase the probability of fatal accidents and asphyxial deaths.

Traffic experts have been analyzing causes of highway accidents now classified as "drove off roadway," "poor judgment," or "inattention." They believe that in such cases drivers may have been dazed or overcome by carbon monoxide.

Defects in exhaust facilities, contribute to this hazard, says Albert W. Whitney, Associate Gen. Mgr., National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Short or split exhaust pipes, leaking flexible exhaust tubes, defective manifold gaskets or leaking mufflers and connections, are highly dangerous. Defective floor boards, openings around pedals or in dash boards, and poor engine efficiency, are contributory factors.

Motorists can control the hazard by observing the following: 1. Stop engine in parked closed car, especially in garages, or ventilate freely. 2. Inspect car regularly and replace at once defective manifold gaskets, particularly flexible exhaust tubes which wear out rapidly. 3. Ventilate moving vehicle from front. 4. Install seamless exhaust pipes, or have seam facing ground. Pipe should discharge at rear side opposite driver. 5. Avoid following too closely a car with smoking exhaust.

Same Number of Ribs

Difference in sex has no bearing upon the number of bones in the human body. All normal men and women have the same number of ribs, 12 pairs or a total of 24.

"SHOPPING...THERE'S A REAL TEST OF NERVES, TOO, MR. BUCK!"

Listen to what Mrs. Abbot J. Copeland has to say on shopping—and nerves:

"There's no doubt in the world that healthy nerves are vital to a man who goes out and catches wild animals alive. But take it from a busy wife and mother who spends many hours each week searching through the stores—trying to make the family budget reach as far as possible—you need healthy nerves to be a shopper, too! Tramping through miles and miles of aisles...pricing, comparing, judging quality and values...well, that's a test of anyone's nerves. 'Nerves' don't ever bother me, though. As for cigarettes, I smoke Camels. They don't upset my nerves. And I have never tasted such flavor and mildness."

Frank Buck, who has brought back many tons of wild cargo from the jungles of Asia, says:

"It takes healthy nerves to bring 'em back alive. It's a job packed with thrills, excitement and real danger. I never would have been able to populate half the zoos in this country, cross the Pacific 20 times with tons of savage live cargo, and save my own life a half dozen times by quick action if I didn't have healthy nerves. I am a heavy smoker. I prefer Camels, knowing that I can safely smoke all I want without upsetting my nerves."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Jangled nerves are apt to visit us all. You know the signs—telephone slamming, frowning, hot words that wound others, worrying and fuming over trifles.

If you are inclined toward jumpy nerves check up now—on your eating and sleeping, your habits of work and play. Make Camels your cigarette. They never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

If you have experienced the aftertaste often associated with flat-tasting cigarettes, or the "sweet" type, you will appreciate the mildness and rich flavor of Camels. And you can smoke them all you want. For Camel's costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

Serious Situation Confronts the League

French Communist in Disarmament League on Anniversary of Military Pact—Hungary Says Political Tension Great.

Geneva, May 14 (AP)—Disarmament League on anniversary of military pact today was a full house and Hungary "calling" Yugoslavia.

France standing pat, was waiting for the League of Nations to guarantee security.

Hungary likewise called for a security guarantee and published a paper against Yugoslavia which said the political tension in Europe was so great that every conflict must be eliminated.

This situation confronted the members of the League of Nations as they gathered today for the 13th session.

Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, attended a private meeting today by Augusto Vasconcelos, minister of Portugal and persons cognate with the recent Paris conversation about disarmament prospects were gloomy unless Barthou was able to get unbreakable assurances from his nation that France will be given military assistance if attacked.

France would like a military alliance with Great Britain but, failing this, desires a security system resembling the Locarno pact. If she obtains this, she might consent to reduction of armaments, it was said.

However, declared a French spokesman, "France cannot accept a legislation of German reparations which violates the Treaty of Versailles."

The private meeting decided to postpone the consideration of the Hungarian appeal against Yugoslavia to a later session which probably will be specially controlled during the disarmament conference which will resume at the end of May. The Hungarian protest, however, was made public.

The always-irritating subject of the war in the China between Paraguay and Bolivia may be handled at the same session.

Another troublesome question, that of the boundary conflict between Peru and Colombia may be cleared up without league assistance, for Colombians said today that the negotiations at Rio de Janeiro between representatives of both nations are proceeding satisfactorily.

As a result the committee entrusted with the study of the Peru-Colombia question probably will not meet for several days, hoping for good news from Rio de Janeiro.

The council today accepted $100,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation and $50,000 from the Milbank Memorial Fund of New York for the league's health work.

Meeting Postponed
The meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church, scheduled for Tuesday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Fowl Pox Vaccine Is Now Available

Orders for fowl pox vaccine are again being taken by the Farm Bureau. The vaccine is prepared by the New York State Veterinary College and distributed on an experimental basis through local veterinarians.

Last year, 30,000 doses were distributed on this basis to the poultrymen of Ulster county to control chicken pox in their flocks.

According to the Farm Bureau, chicken pox has caused serious losses during the winter months and is easily controlled by vaccination of pullets during the summer. Complete information will be gladly given on request at the Farm Bureau office.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brink motored to New York city last Monday. Mrs. Sadie Kiff of Kingston and Mrs. Herman Hermance motored to Newburgh on Wednesday evening and attended lodge meeting at the Col. J. W. Brady Camp No. 25.

Mrs. Melvin Steen, Mrs. William Votaw and Mrs. Herman Hermance were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perc Krom and daughter, Mother's Day.

Shokan, May 14—Mrs. Edwin George of New York city arrived at her summer home here last Thursday.

Adam Kirk, Jr., of South Norwalk, Conn., spent Sunday at the camp on the Winchell farm.

The older pupils of the Shokan school, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. E. C. Burgher, enjoyed a bus trip to Albany Saturday. The trip was made for the purpose of viewing the public buildings at the state capital.

At the annual election of officers of the Reformed Sunday school, held Sunday morning, May 6, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Superintendent, Daniel Sampson; assistant superintendent, Irving Weeks; treasurer, Benja. Tueling; secretary, John Adair, and librarian, Norman North.

The Shokan House opened Saturday for the season with five city guests registered for the week.

Members of the city's boulevard maintenance force are engaged in making repairs to the north route between this village and Boiceville. There are still a few spots in the Glenford section which are in bad condition.

Edward Harlow and daughter, Lily, were callers last Tuesday at the home of Mr. Harlow's sister, Mrs. Inez Dumont. The Harlows had recently returned from Florida where they spent the winter.

May 14, 1932, the marriage took place of William Ruoff of Hunter to Julia Berryann of Phoenixia, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Harry Cornford, pastor of the Shokan M. E. Church.

The influx of reservoir fishermen appears to be increasing daily, with the number of sportsmen about equally divided between the two basins. The vicinity of the dividing weir remains the most popular spot for visiting anglers. Sufficient water is going over the spillway to make a fairly interesting waterfall. The flow line of the east basin is now even with the top of the plank across the top of the spillway, and the wind sweeping over the reservoir carries a considerable quantity of water over the terraced dam and under the south boulevard bridge.

Goshawk Is Intelligent;
It Has Uncanny Instinct

Strangely enough, it has been found that birds of the Falcon family, which includes the Goshawk and other birds of prey, react more quickly to the influence of kindness than any other species of bird. They possess a rare intelligence and very highly developed sense organs. They have an uncanny instinct for recalling old haunts and old friends even after a lapse of years and have a remarkable power of individually adapting their conduct to novel circumstances. Their instinctive habits once interrupted, the average bird becomes flustered and helpless but not so the hawk, he quickly adjusts his habits to the new conditions and carries on.

Possessing an intelligence that makes him rank well up with the most sagacious of our domestic animal pets, and well above all other birds, it does seem a pity that his carnivorous habits are such as to make him so very unpopular. The Goshawk is one of seven wild native birds that may be destroyed at any time—for him there is no closed season.—Montreal Herald.

Deacons Ordained In Rondout Church

Impressive services marked the ordination of deacons in the Rondout Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning when the deacons elected at the annual church meeting in April were ordained by the Rev. James N. Armstrong, Jr., pastor of the church, assisted by the elders. The deacons ordained were William Henry McDevitt, Harold DeLaMater, Melville LeRoy Palmer and F. Herbert Van Dusen. Ralph Bostwick Neville, Tuesday evening the members of who had been elected a junior deacon, was also installed at the service. Mother's Day was observed with appropriate music to the choir and a sermon appropriate to the day by the Rev. Mr. Armstrong. Another pleasing feature of the service was the appearance of Miss Virginia Loos Kamp, who had served the church as contralto soloist for over 15 years, resigning recently. Miss Loos Kamp sang a solo, and also assisted the choir. The new offertory plates that had been purchased with funds given by several of the church members in memory of former members of the church, were used for the first time at the service.

Fireless Cookers Not New
Fireless cookers, which were used as the less cookers some 25 years ago by the inhabitants of what is now Arizona were discovered by an expedition from the University of Arizona. They were five feet deep and the same in diameter. A hole was cut in the bottom of the pot and after it had been closed with a layer of mud, a layer of coals was placed in the bottom. A layer of greens came next followed by the food to be cooked with a final layer of greens for a covering.

MY BEST SHOT

Runnan Uses Bigger Clubs, Conserves His Energy.

By BOB CAVANARO
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, N.Y., May 14.—The golf world may not agree it, but Paul Runnan has changed the technique of his game. The results speak for themselves and carry a lesson to every golfer.

For several years the slender shot-maker used and varied success to equal the more rugged fellow pros in distance. The results hardly were worth the back-breaking effort the long shots required so Runnan decided to alter his game, exchanging power for accuracy.

Two years ago I developed the technique of using a stronger club than each shot required and hitting the ball easily. Runnan said, "This change accounts for the improvement in my game."

Straight for the Pin:
The change is best illustrated by Runnan's play of the 170-yard 11th hole in the Charleston open last winter. The green opens up with a broad apron of about 50 feet and abruptly diminishes to a long, velvet strip 15 feet wide. In front there is a yawning trap 15 feet deep and to the rear is another sand pit almost as deep.

While many other players selected the less difficult method of approach by aiming for the apron, Runnan four times boldly played a No. 3 iron for the cup, three times landing inside of 10 feet from the pin, and once plopping the ball in the far trap.

"The wind was blowing against the hole from left to right," he said, "and the green was lying a little that way. Instead of using a No. 4 iron, as most other boys did, I played a No. 3, teed the ball up high, played it into the wind, and faded it a bit."

Gets Up—And In:
The first time the ball landed in the trap and Paul eked out a four-

PAUL RUNNAN

The second time he was nine feet from the cup on his tee shot and got down easily to two putts. The next time he laid the ball within two feet of the can and sank the putt for a birdie, and on the final round, which he negotiated in 65 strokes, he missed another birdie, just missing a four-footer.

Runnan's altering of his long game has done nothing to detract from his spectacular and deadly approach and putting. He's worked hard on the new method and has got it down to the point where he has both confidence and consistency in it.

Martin Wins Only Three Hits

Of the 100 performance by Jim Martin was the most successful. He was allowed only three hits and walked only two men. In the seventh inning Martin pitched out of the Newburgh and Port Jervis teams. Kingston should have had a lot of trouble in capturing the 1934 championship.

Coughlin's performance, brilliant as it was, did not help Kingston as it was a defensive game.

As to Martin's performance, he pitched six and walked three men. In the first inning he was out of the game, but he came back in the third inning and pitched out of the game.

Kingston's runs were collected as follows: One in the first inning, DeCicco scoring on Lindeman's double, one in the third inning, Moore scoring on Martin's single, and two in the seventh inning, Murphy scoring on DeCicco's single and DeCicco scoring on Lindeman's single.

Play by Play
Following is the play by play account of the innings in which the runs were manufactured:

First Inning, Kingston: Murphy out, Coughlin to P. Kelly, DeCicco singled to center field, Moore bled to T. Kelly, Linden doubled to left, DeCicco scoring. Martin fanned. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning, Kingston: Moore singled to left, Linden fanned, Martin singled past Quinn, Moore scored. Hopper bled to Coughlin, Tiano fanned. One run, two hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning, Kingston: Zadan fanned, Murphy walked, DeCicco singled, Murphy scoring, Moore out, Hahn to P. Kelly, Linden singled, DeCicco scoring. Martin bled to Quinn. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Sideline
This game was the first this season that Kingston batters were fanned one-two-three in one inning. Kingston batters were fanned thus in the fourth and fifth innings.

Martin fanned at least two men in every inning except the sixth and the ninth. In these two innings he struck out one Coughlin, also struck out at least one man in each inning. He struck out at least two men in every inning except the first, sixth and seventh.

Jack Linden was the big man with the bat Saturday, hitting a single, a double and driving in two runs. He batted .500.

Next Saturday, the team plays Poughkeepsie High at Poughkeepsie for the return game to the one played at the Fair Grounds two weeks ago.

Rienzos Win 5 Inning Game from Glasco, 5-3

The Rienzo A. C. takes credit for a five inning victory over the Glasco All Stars Sunday afternoon at Block Park, 5-3. The game ended in a dispute, preventing the usual nine innings from being played.

Perry did the best hitting for the Rienzo in the brief battle, polling a lone two-bagger. Marabell hit a double for Glasco.

Next Sunday the Rienzos will travel to St. Remy.

Schmeling Draws With Paulino at Barcelona

Official Decision Displeases Experts Who Gave Max Eight Out of 12 Rounds—Cullen Outboxed by Wide Margin.

Barcelona, Spain, May 14 (AP)—Max Schmeling's record encounter with Paulino Uzcudun had gone into the record books as a draw today but the impression was general he easily had earned a decision he didn't get.

Through 12 rounds, the former heavyweight champion pounded away at Paulino's face, and outboxed him by the margin in the feature match of Montjuich Stadium's 16th round boxing carnival yesterday.

But the judges called it a draw. Rousigne critics, giving Schmeling at least eight rounds, thought the judges had been influenced by the courageous fight Paulino put up against a more skillful rival.

The crowd of 10,000, frankly partisan to Paulino, cheered the result vociferously. In their first meeting in New York five years ago, Schmeling won by decision.

The heavyweight bout was the climax of a three-ring boxing carnival.

Schryvers Bow to Murrys, 8-1, Brooklyn Howards Here Wednesday

Committing eight errors, the Schryver All Stars bowed to the Murray Hill nine, 8-1, Sunday afternoon at the Kingston Fair Grounds while a few hundred fans looked on with quite a bit of displeasure.

The miscues figured in the runmaking. Bill Thomas hurling a fair game for the Lumberman, striking out eight batters and allowing only six hits. His opponent, Cooper, formerly of Yale, fanned 11 men and allowed 10 safeties. Despite the decade of hits, Kingston fell down in the pinches, failing to score.

Of the hits gleaned off Cooper, Joe Hoffman, Kingston catcher, stood out in the limelight with four—a double and three singles. Thomas made two and one each was gleaned by Lay, Fraleigh, Carpenter and L. Bruhn.

Catching the locals off balance entirely, Cotterino stole home for one of the Murray Hill runs. Vincent hit a home run over the right field fence as a feature of the four run rally in the fourth inning. Errors by the Schryvers cropped out all around in the Murray Hill scores.

To Carpenter went the credit of scoring Kingston's only run. He singled, as did Hoffman, and came home on Thomas's double. The Lumbermen had several good chances to score during the contest but couldn't send the boys around the bases.

Fritz Bruhn was out of the lineup yesterday, his place at third being covered by Pres Knight. Ted Fraleigh covered right field.

Next Wednesday evening the Schryvers will play a twilight game at the Athletic Field, meeting the Howard of Brooklyn.

Cascarella Stars for A's on Mound, Yanks Blank Indians, Giants Lose

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

When Connie Mack said early this spring that he thought his club might go somewhere in the American League this season if only a few of his young pitchers came through in good form, few thought of Joe Cascarella as one of those who might help out.

As things have turned out, Joe, a former Philadelphia sandlotter who spent several seasons in the International League earning a reputation as a good seven inning pitcher, seems to have become one of the A's mound stars. After beating the Yankees twice in relief roles, he was promoted to a post as starting pitcher and has won two more contests without a loss.

A's Take Third Place.
He took the play from another Philadelphia sandlot graduate yesterday when the fans celebrated Alas Strange Day at Shibe Park and Cascarella made it the occasion for a 3 to 2 Philadelphia victory.

The triumph gave the A's third place in the tight race at Washington. The bumping Detroit out of a hard berth by shelling Tommy Bridges from the hill in the seventh and scoring six runs to win 7 to 4. Philadelphia's position also was improved when the Yankees slammed the second place Cleveland club into submission 5 to 0 as Lefty Gomez allowed only four hits for the fifth straight victory. The Red Sox slaughtered Chicago 14 to 2.

The National League standing produced an odd situation when the Pittsburgh Pirates, a half game behind Chicago, according to one method of reckoning, took the lead by two percentage points. Such was

Kingston Netmen "Crack Down" On St. Stephens 2nd Time; 9-0

St. Stephen's College varsity ten-day in beating LeFerre of St. John's team suffered its second straight defeat at the hands of a much improved Kingston Tennis Club team Saturday afternoon on the college courts when the local netmen swamped the Annapolis boys by a match score of 3-0. The matches were in the form of a public exhibition as St. Stephen's College was celebrating Alumni Day, and a large crowd watched the collegians get whitewashed by the Kingston squad.

C. Smyth, star of the St. Stephen's netters, lost in straight sets to Stan Hancock of the Kingston team. The scores of this match went 6-1, 6-4

Cavalcade, High Quest Train for Other Stakes

Kennedy's Goal Is American Derby at Washington Park June 2
—High Quest After $50,000 Belmont Money June 9.

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 14 (AP)—Having settled their personal feud for the time being at least, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Stone's High Quest and Cavalcade, co-owners of the turf's three-year-olds today had come to the parting of the ways.

Back in their stalls at Belmont Park, following a stirring stretch duel in the Preakness at Pimlico in which High Quest beat Cavalcade by the narrowest of margins, the two stars started training for campaigns on two separate fronts.

The future of Cavalcade, winner of the Kentucky Derby, lies in the west with the American Derby at Washington Park, June 2, his next objective. High Quest will be pointed for the one and one-half miles of the $50,000 Belmont stakes at Belmont Park June 9.

Whether the pair will meet again later in the season depends upon how they train. They have met twice in their brief racing careers and each time High Quest was in front. The son of Sir Gallahad 3d won the Eastern Shore by a length last fall and Saturday got home by a head in the Preakness.

Johnson Outboard Victor on Sunday

Young New Jersey Pilot Wins Albany-New York Grind in First Trial, Finishing in Two Hours, 50 Minutes, 38 Seconds—Other Winners.

New York, May 14 (AP)—C. H. (Charl) Johnson, 23-year-old draftsman from Cranberry Lake, N. J., won the Albany-New York outboard race in his first crack at the grueling 132-mile grind down the Hudson.

In close to record time, Johnson returned the victor in the seventh annual race yesterday, piloting his Dorchester III across the finish line, two hours, 50 minutes and 38 seconds after leaving Albany. His average speed of 44.2 miles per hour failed by only two-tenths of a second to equal the record established in 1932 by Charlie Cabot of New Haven.

The race was on a handicap basis with the following winners:

Class A—(Amateur) Gar Wood, Jr., Algonac, Mich.
(Professional) Ted Roberts, New York.

Class B—(Amateur) George Plungin, Linden, N. J.
(Professional) Clayton Bishop, Onset, Mass.

DOG WAS SAVED
But Auto Racer's Effort Ended in Death For 3 Spectators
Fontainebleau, France, May 14 (AP)—Eight persons, six men and two women, are dead and five injured because of an automobile racing driver's efforts to save the life of a dog.
The driver, Eric Corbin, army aviator, lost control of his car and it hurtled into a mass of spectators when he swerved during a race in Fontainebleau forest to avoid hitting the animal.
The dog apparently escaped unhurt.

Changes In Game Laws Announced

Black Bear May be Taken in Ulster County From October 15 to December 31—Other changes.
There have been a number of changes in the state's fish and game laws which hunters and fishermen should familiarize themselves with. Among the changes which came into being during the last session of the legislature and which have been adopted within the past few days by Governor Lehman's signature, is one which affects Ulster County. For some time there have been frequent discussions over the open season for black bear in Ulster County. The matter has been finally decided by a new law which limits the season for the taking of bear from October 15 to December 31, and in addition provides that no black bear may be taken or killed unless a year old.

Among the new laws which affect this locality are the following:
"A bill limiting the season for the taking of bear in counties where the season for the taking of bear is open from October 15 and December 31. This bill applies to the counties of Greene, Delaware, Essex, Franklin, Canton and Ulster."
"A bill providing that no person shall take or kill a black bear less than one year old."
"A bill providing that persons found for violations of the conservation laws and unable to pay their fines and sent to jail may receive a credit of $1 per day for every day spent in jail. Under existing law, days spent in jail do not serve to reduce the amount of the fine."
"A bill fixing a uniform open season for ruffed grouse in all counties of the state from October 15 to November 15. At present, there are certain counties in which the season extends until November 30."
"A bill closing the season on quail in Dutchess county and making the taking of quail at any time in that county illegal."
"A bill very materially reducing the open season for lake trout. This bill fixes the season from May 1 to September 10, inclusive. Previously the season was from April 1 to September 30, inclusive. The season is therefore reduced by 50 days."
"A bill reducing from 10 to 5 the number of lake trout which may be taken in one day, and from 15 to 10 the number which may be taken from a boat when two or more persons are fishing therefrom. Lakes Erie and Ontario and Chaumont Bay are excluded from the provisions of this bill."
"A bill giving the Conservation Department the power to make rules and regulations governing the possession in private ownership of fish, quadrupeds or birds to protect them from cruelty, disease or discomfort and to protect the public from contact or contamination. This bill is the outgrowth of an agitation raised after several children had been killed by wild bears kept in captivity."

Completing Plans for West Point Horse Show

West Point, May 14.—Major J. B. Thompson is rapidly completing arrangements for the 16th annual West Point Horse Show, which will be held adjacent to the summer camp site near Trophy Point. The show, with its beautiful layout of jumps with potted shrubs for wings, covers a plot of ground 150 by 140 yards. By routing the jumpers differently for the various classes, courses range from 500 to 1,100 yards. The height of the jumps vary from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 feet and the large diameter, hollow bars which are to be used on all rail type obstacles not only makes the jumping most spectacular, but also helps the horse to give a better performance as the object is more clearly defined.
Major Thompson has arranged a practice course on the Cavalry Field adjacent to the south entrance to the Academy, reservation on which officers on the post are working their horses each Sunday morning in anticipation of the stiffest competition ever seen at a local show. Many excellent jumpers from Newark, Trenton, New Haven and other cities have already been entered.
Ample grandstand seats and parking space will be available for all visitors and the proceeds will go to local relief work. Reserve seats may be had by applying to the West Point Horse Show Association.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES ANNOUNCED

The Mother's Day services at Trinity Lutheran Church were largely attended Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. W. H. Pretzsch, preached a very fitting sermon, and the music under the direction of Roger B. Schwartz was appropriate to the occasion.
The Senior Luthing League will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the assembly rooms. A large attendance is hoped for.
Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the Downtown Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society will hold a card party in the assembly rooms. Refreshments will be served.
The Ladies' Aid Society is working on two sketches to be presented on Friday, May 25. The casts of these sketches are made up entirely of ladies and promise to be most entertaining. All interested in an evening of fun are asked to keep the date open. The cast of characters will be announced later.
Cold Killed Prehistoric Reptiles
Research indicates that the great prehistoric reptilian monsters of North America died of cold, caused by change of climate, rather than by empoisonment. The killing of great land masses died up their swampy homes.
The Calm Terrors
The Calm terror has less pronounced whiskers than the Scottish, and its coat is somewhat shorter. In disposition it has the same appeal as the popular Scottish.

Howe About: Education Lonely Old Men Shiftless People

By ED HOWE
It is often said the people must be educated before reform can be expected. This is accepted as meaning every man must be so completely educated in our modern way as to be able to teach in college. Education thus becomes so great a task we are discouraged in contemplating it. Our estimate of an education is wrong. After a man is thirty, if not earlier, a career, an intelligent reading of the "Outline of History," combined with his own experience, will educate him. Those intending to teach should attend technical schools, as do doctors, lawyers, painters, engineers, etc. There are dozens of short summaries of everything one needs to know; a new one was added last fall, and writers are favoring the style of writing lately. These summaries not only educate a reader, but entertain him better than will detective stories or novels.

I know an old fellow whose children are all married and gone, and who does not sleep well. He does well enough during the day, but anyone passing his house late at night may see lights burning. The servants are kind, but he will not impose on them, so he is alone and wide awake a good deal at night; and night is especially lonely. Lately he employed a woman of sixty to assist him from 11 p. m. until people are moving on the streets again. She has a soothing way about her, and he gets to sleep offener during his dangerous hours. If he awakens, he finds her asleep in her chair at the foot of his bed, but she awakens easily, and again she reads to him, or they talk. During these hard times, many good women are seeking employment, and the crop of lonely old men is large. Why not?

I regret shiftlessness, but have admired shiftless people. The man and wife I hang around most are the most shiftless people I have ever known, but both are "good fellows," and tremendously smart. They have long had in their employ an old colored servant they now owe so much they can't pay her, and thus get rid of her by discharge. The black woman needs an operation, and they are trying to find a doctor who will perform it on credit. They have had her teeth fixed four times, and still owe for it.

Americans are judged abroad by what American books, magazines and newspapers say; by speeches delivered at meetings of various social clubs and political organizations. All these are unnatural, and foreigners do not know us; our publicity agents have given us a character we do not deserve. What the average American thinks and believes is not known even in his own country; the American attends moving picture plays, not because he is much interested in the vulgar people who make them, but because they cost only twenty-five cents, and occasionally have a good news reel or comedy. I lately attended a moving picture theater, and only six others were there. Never before have I seen a "show" presented to an audience of seven, and it was the best theater in town, showing the best available picture plays. American people are not as crazy about the disreputable crowd at Hollywood as is believed abroad.

I may be mistaken in what I think I know in my eightieth year, but I am more certain of it than ever before, and I have less time left in which to change my mind.

At eighty I am not afraid of the future. I have been treated with reasonable justice all my conscious life, and expect as much of the future. No one can convince me there is a devil after death to torture me for eating, drinking, loving, hating, trading, venturing. I have lived a long time, and thought as clearly and fairly as I could, and have heard not a word from a reliable source to make me fear a devil to torture me after I am dead. A million ghost dancers have howled dimly at me throughout life without frightening me. They might as well cease dancing; the truth is not what they say it is. There is more mercy than they claim.

I have a son I think is quite wise; rather able in taking care of himself. The other day he was at home, and a suspicious man kept calling him by telephone. I knew the suspicious man, and what he wanted: a big favor; to "work" my son. I warned him, and the young man replied: "That's all right; don't worry; I'll 'work' him right back." There are so many who try to "work" you I warn you to acquire the ability of my son, or you'll be ruined.

I have not looked it up, but am informed that the British Encyclopedia lists fourteen of Goethe's mistresses. The fact that all nations of the world joined in ceremonies to honor Goethe on the hundredth anniversary of his birth seems to indicate that such indiscretions are finally forgotten. Still, sterner men should remember this great charity was not shown Goethe until his hundredth anniversary; probably when alive, he found gossip as annoying as do men of today.

MODENA

Modena, May 14.—Interest was made in the Modena Rural Society Thursday afternoon of the remains of the late Millard Elmendorf, who died at his home in Gardiner, Monday, May 7, at the age of 57 years. Besides his widow, Mrs. Belle Elmendorf, deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Monetta Elmendorf of Clintondale and Mrs. Harriet Clinton of Highland; also one brother, Noah Elmendorf of Des Moines, Iowa. Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Monetta Elmendorf at Clintondale, when the Rev. Robert Ritchie, pastor of the Gardiner Reformed Church officiated.

Thursday, May 10, the May meeting of the Modena unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau was held at Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck's home. Reports were made by Mrs. Ira Hyatt and Mrs. George Altheusen of the recent trip to Glens Falls, where the district Federation meeting was in progress. Plans were made and date set for the annual Home Bureau picnic to be held on the lawn of the "Old Homestead" farm in Modena, Thursday, June 14. FIRE DESTROYED OLD HOUSE IN TOWN OF OLIVE THURSDAY

West Shokan, May 14.—Fire believed to have been started by lightning during the severe electrical storm Thursday afternoon caused the complete destruction between 6 and 7 o'clock of an old Olive land mark known as the Jacob B. Winchell farm house on the High Point Springs farm.
It is thought the fire had been smoldering for some time previous to the discovery of flames and smoke issuing from the roof and attic windows by Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, who live nearby on the old Isaac L. Heesmer place. Mr. Stewart and Judge Henry Winchell were the first to arrive at the fire. Mrs. Winchell made a trip in her car to notify the superintendent of the farm property, Frank Rosa.
Nothing was removed from the house, which was partially furnished. Extensive and costly improvements had been made to the house within recent years. It is not known whether the house was insured.
The house was about 100 years old and was built by Josiah Winchell. Ethel Courter were local representatives of the Modena troop of Girl Scouts, spending Friday and Saturday of last week at Camp Wendy at Wallkill.
